Ike Gets Ready to Denounce Soviet Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower conferred with Secretary of State Dulles today about getting off a speedy note to Soviet Premier Khrushchev on bitterly disputed plans for a Middle East summit conference.

The new Eisenhower letter may suggest a date in the next few days for a U.N. Security Council meeting to work out arrangements and a date for a summit session. Officials said Eisenhower was certain to insist the meeting be held entirely within the regular procedures of the Council.

Dulles went to the White House shortly before noon and about four hours after he returned from the meeting of the Baghdad Pact powers at London.

He told reporters at the airport that he had read only fragments of Khrushchev's latest letter to Eisenhower and he would not comment until he had seen the full text and conferred with the President.

The Soviet leader's message was an angry denunciation of the President's determination to keep the proposed summit meeting in regular U.N. Security Council channels.

Khrushchev accused Eisenhower of deliberately confusing negotiations for a summit session in order to delay its start.

The Soviet leader also said he would prefer a summit session in Geneva outside the U.N. Some officials said the Khrushchev letter was remarkably insulating for one head of a great power.

Italian Premier Talking With Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Amintore Fanfani of Italy begins emergency Middle East talks with President Eisenhower today after two speeches before Congress. Fanfani is reported ready to stress a combined European-American aid program as a means of easing the Middle East crisis. He has no single spectacular plan to unveil, aides said, but is eager to win American backing for the objective.

Army Jet Plane Crashes, Eight Crewmen Die

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP)—A huge B52 jet bomber crashed today three miles south of Loring Air Force Base killing eight men. The craft was returning from a routine training mission.

The plane was approaching the air field with a ceiling of only 400 feet. It was raining at the time. The bomber crashed in a field three miles from the Maine-New Brunswick border.

There was only one survivor—Maj. Moody E. Deaton, of Donelson, Tenn., an instructor pilot. He was taken to the base hospital where his condition was described as good.

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP)—An Air Force plane believed to be a B52 jet bomber crashed shortly after takeoff from Loring Air Force Base here today. Witnesses said they found one crewman dead and that another survived. There was no immediate word from the Air Force which rushed all available rescue equipment and search parties to the scene—three miles from the sprawling Strategic Air Command base near the Canadian border.

Residents of the area said the aircraft, which normally carries a crew of eight, barely missed a farm home.

Satellite Is Sending Back Much Data

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Explorer IV satellite is sending back a wealth of information on a not field of radiation high in space.

Although in orbit only three days, the heaviest and most important U.S. satellite already has confirmed the existence of the killer rays at an altitude of 800 miles above the earth.

Dr. James Van Allen of Iowa State University, who directed the development and assembly of the satellite's complex instruments, said the data so far looks very satisfactory.

Explorer IV, which is expected to whirl around the globe for the next five years, records radiation energy and intensity on four counters and relays the messages. For two radio waves are expected to last for two months.

Meanwhile, the Air Force stepped up preparations for the first moon launchings. It was learned the target date was set for sometime between Aug. 15 and 17.

The Air Force reportedly will attempt to shoot a satellite around the moon on a one-way flight. A three-stage version of the Thor-Able rocket will be the launching vehicle.

The Army's first chance to shoot the moon probably will not come before November.

Hand Frostbitten In Drink Machine

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A 18-year-old youth was in a hospital today with a frostbitten hand because he was afraid to call for help after it got caught in a soft drink machine. He said he didn't want to be mistaken for a thief.

John Polinski said the mechanism began turning after he inserted a coin but it stopped before the bottle was delivered. He opened the top and tried to extract the bottle but the mechanism started again and caught his hand.

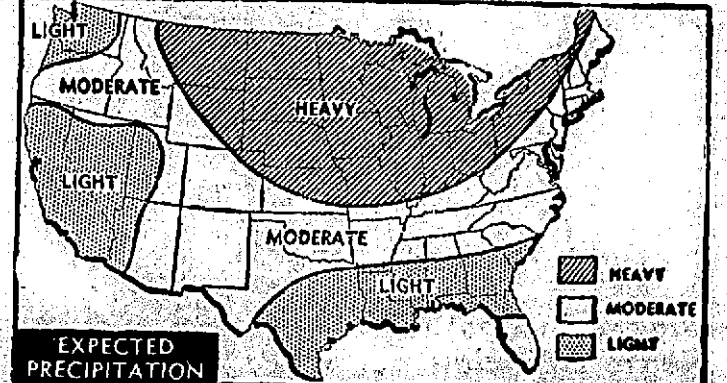

It was some time before his hand was discovered. Firemen had to dismantle the machine to release him.

Singing School to Start August 4

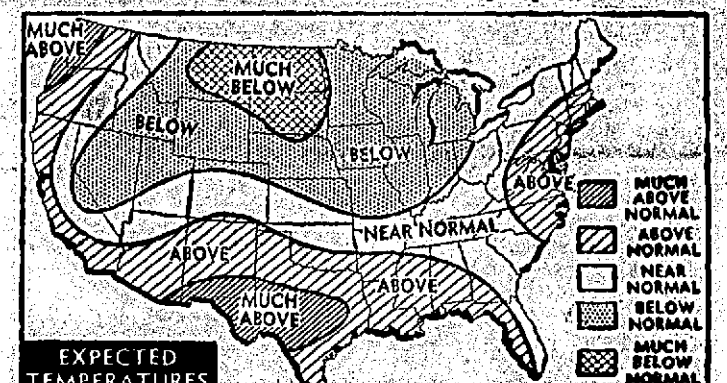

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Kennedy of Hope announce the annual school of Gospel Music will open in Hope, Monday, August 4 in the Church of the Nazarene on Elm Street. The Rev. Bill Camp is pastor. The school will continue for two weeks with afternoon and night classes. A closing program will be held in Hope City Hall, Friday, August 15.

Precipitation from mid-July to mid-August is expected to exceed normal in the northern half of the country between the Rockies and the Appalachians. Subnormal rainfall is indicated for the Gulf and South Atlantic States as well as the far West. In other areas near normal rainfalls are in prospect.

Temperatures from mid-July to mid-August are expected to average above normal over the southern third of the nation, along the West Coast, and in the Middle Atlantic States. Below normal temperatures are in prospect for the northern half of the country between the eastern Great Lakes and the northern Rocky Mountain States.

Texarkana Can't Locate Mystery Blast

TEXARKANA (AP)—A mysterious explosion jolted Texarkana and surrounding area today but the source of the rumbling blast could not be located.

The sound lasted for several seconds but no one who heard it could pinpoint its location.

Police said they had received calls from persons who heard the blast at Lewisville, 30 miles east of here.

Officials said a number of downtown businesses reported that their stores were jarred and windows rattled from the force of the explosion.

Officials at the Red River Arsenal and the Lone Star Ordnance Plant 12 miles east of here said they heard the blast but knew nothing about it.

Reports were circulated that a jet plane had broken the sound barrier over the city, but State Trooper Charles Boyd said he had heard a jet breaking the sound barrier and it did not sound like today's blast.

The public information office at Barksdale Air Force Base at Shreveport, La., said the base had no planes capable of breaking the sound barrier. Officers said they did not know of any such planes scheduled to be in the Texarkana area today.

Fire Damages Emmet Station

Writing in the attic caused a fire at Hickory Bros. station at Emmet today. The fire, which started about 8:30 last night, but damage was not considered heavy. A Hope fire truck went to the scene. Firemen said there was some damage to the station ceiling and some old papers stored were damaged.

Goldfine Faces First Step to a Citation

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators today recommended contempt of Congress proceedings against Bernard Goldfine, giving friend of presidential assistant Sherman Adams.

Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark.) said the investigating subcommittee's recommendation would be submitted soon as possible to its parent, the House Commerce Committee.

If endorsed by the full committee, the contempt citation would go to the House.

And if approved by the House, it would go to the U.S. district attorney for handling as a criminal case.

It will have to be done quickly to get action at this session of Congress, Harris told a newsman after a 40-minute closed session today.

Attempt to Kill the Premier of Lebanon Fails

By WILTON WYNN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—An attempt to assassinate Premier Sami Solh missed by a split second today. This and heavy exchanges of gunfire in Beirut emphasized that Lebanon's 81-day crisis is still on despite some expressed hopes for early peace.

The incidents coincided with 15 new demands by the opposition National Front just as it seemed possible a compromise might be reached on election of a new president, which some thought might lead to an easing of this nation's problems.

The opposition and supporters of the pro-Western government were reported practically agreed on the Army commander, Gen. Faud Shehab, as a compromise. But the National Front turned thumbs down on any candidate unless he would agree to demand immediate withdrawal of American troops.

It also demanded immediate resignation of President Camille Chamoun, whose term does not expire until Sept. 23.

The U.S. Embassy announced that American troops would be withdrawn only if Lebanon's internal security is re-established and the United Nations provides adequate guarantees of Lebanon's independence.

In the assassination attempt, eight persons were killed and a 5-year-old girl hurt, but Solh was not touched.

A car parked along the road was blown up as he was driving into Beirut. Detonator wires from the car ran up a hillside to a spot from which two men were seen to run.

Had they delayed the detonation a split second longer, Solh would have been blown to bits.

The dead included a policeman on a motorcycle, three gendarmes, and four persons in a car just ahead of Solh.

The heavy firing in Beirut occurred around the main government building, in Capitol Square near the postoffice, and in the Zeiri quarter at The Associated Press office. Security forces fired guns from armored cars in reply to rebel small arms and automatic rifle fire. Dynamic explosions were heard.

The attempted assassination occurred nine miles outside Beirut, the Prime Minister was coming into Beirut from his suburban home, in line in front of his car were a policeman on a motorcycle, a car carrying three gendarmes and a taxi carrying four passengers.

As the group reached an intersection, a car parked there exploded, knocking the motorcycle policeman and the first two cars off the road. An official, a blonde policeman, the three gendarmes and four civilians in the taxi were killed.

Parliament Speaker Adel Ossayran told The Associated Press there is general agreement among all parties that the army commander, Gen. Faud Shehab, will be elected to succeed pro-Western President Camille Chamoun.

A succession of radio announcements over the only station in operation this morning urged the people to arm themselves and go to the palace to demand WRNN, BT Francois Duvalier. The radio also summoned all soldiers to the palace.

The situation was extremely confused and no one seemed to know what was going on. Among the armed civilians in the streets. Continued on Page Two

Best Way to Rid House of Fleas

Fleas become a nuisance in homes and home surroundings during the last few days as shown by requests made at the County Agricultural Extension Service office for control methods. Fleas require a blood meal from warm blooded animals for survival.

It is possible for fleas to lay their eggs without leaving the animal on which they are feeding. The eggs drop to the ground and hatch into small white worms that feed on animal or vegetable matter. The immature fleas develop in the soil, in the pet's bedding, or in cracks of floors, feeding entirely on organic matter. The time required for the development of the immature flea is 24 weeks. The immature stages of the flea do not feed on warm blooded animals.

Dogs and cats should be kept free of fleas. Pets should be examined periodically and treated whenever fleas are found present. If an outbreak of fleas occurs, the source should be located. The pet's bedding and house should be thoroughly inspected and cleaned. The surrounding area should be treated with an insecticide.

Effective insecticides for flea control inside the house, on pets, or for outside home surroundings are dusts: 1% rotenone, 5-10% DDT (do not use on cats), 4 or 6% Malathion, 3% Methoxychlor, or sprays: DDT (do not use on cats), Methoxychlor and Malathion. Follow directions on insecticide label for correct dosages.

Heavy Statewide Vote Is Trend as Arkansans Trek to the Polls Today

Voting Here Is Heavier Than in Past 2 Elections

Voting was very heavy in Hope today in the preferential primary election with an 11 a. m. check showing a total of 787 ballots cast in the eight precincts. Apparently the local trend was statewide.

At 11 a. m. in 1956 there were 603 ballots cast in the city and at the same period in 1954 the total was 660.

Ward 1A had 161; Ward 1 had 130; Ward 1 had 130; Ward 2 had 106; Ward 2A reported 54; Ward 3 listed 59, Ward 3 had 128; Box 6 reported 65 and Box 5 had a total of 84.

There was every indication that voting would pick up considerably during the afternoon, especially when local plants close for the day.

Small Haiti Rebellion Shortlived

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—A band of exiled army officers seized barracks next to the National Palace early today but the rebels were reported wiped out in a swift government counterattack.

The band, believed to number no more than six, landed by launch under cover of darkness and seized the main government building, in Capitol Square near the postoffice, and in the Zeiri quarter at The Associated Press office. Security forces fired guns from armored cars in reply to rebel small arms and automatic rifle fire. Dynamic explosions were heard.

The attempted assassination occurred nine miles outside Beirut, the Prime Minister was coming into Beirut from his suburban home, in line in front of his car were a policeman on a motorcycle, a car carrying three gendarmes and a taxi carrying four passengers.

Mrs. Crystal Tenborg, Home Management Specialist, Agricultural Extension Service, Little Rock, will assist Mrs. Lorraine B. Wylie, Home Demonstration Agent with a Home Management Leader training meeting Wednesday, July 30, in the Hempstead county courtroom beginning at 9:30.

Mrs. Tenborg will conduct demonstrations on selection, use and care of small electrical appliances and a tailor made money management plan. The leaders in turn will repeat the demonstration at their September and November Home Demonstration Club meetings.

All Home Management Leaders are urged to be present and bring a small electrical appliance.

British Restrict Goods to Iraq

LONDON (AP)—Britain has restricted the export of all military and war-potential goods to rebel-ruled Iraq, a Board of Trade spokesman said today.

The action made Iraq, a founder-member of the Baghdad Pact, subject to the same export licensing procedures as Communist countries.

Britain's action appeared to be primarily precautionary. It seemed to be offset somewhat by the fact that about 118 Iraqi army, air force and cadet officers were under training at British military establishments are still carrying on normally with their duties here.

Government spokesmen said Britain considers obligations to train the Iraqis still valid.

Spotlight Is on the Race for Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A fairly heavy early vote was reported today as Arkansans decided whether to nominate Gov. Orval Faubus to an almost unprecedented third term.

The first returns came from the Mount Olive community near Melbourne in north Arkansas. Fourteen persons voted for Faubus. His opponents received no votes.

Faubus, hoping that his stand in the integration crisis would reap a landslide victory, faced two opponents in the Democratic preferential primary.

Early reports from several cities in Arkansas indicated the governor's race might be enough to draw a massive turnout despite the absence of hot local issues.

Some 300,000 of the half-million eligible voters were expected to cast ballots, including possibly 50,000 of the 60,000 eligible Negroes.

Payment of a poll tax is a prerequisite for voting in Arkansas. The deadline for paying the tax in order to vote today was just Oct. 1, a few weeks after Faubus ordered state soldiers to block integration at Central High School here.

By CLIFTON WELLS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus is hoping that his stand in the Little Rock integration crisis will sweep him to a third-term Democratic nomination in today's primary.

Faubus, who ordered state troops to block school integration, faced two opponents.

In strongly Democratic Arkansas, nomination is equivalent to election.

Should Faubus not win a majority today, he will face the runner-up in a runoff second primary Aug. 12.

The two candidates opposing the controversial incumbent — Chris Finkbeiner, 37-year-old Little Rock meat packing company executive, and Lee Ward, 51, of Paragould, Ark., a state court judge — both conceded Faubus an excellent chance to lead the preferential ticket. But they pinned their hopes on forcing the governor into a runoff.

Both Ward and Finkbeiner have strongly criticized Faubus' action last September when the governor prevented nine Negro children from entering Little Rock Central High School by placing a cordon of National Guardsmen around the school.

After Faubus removed the state troops in face of a Federal District Court injunction directing him to cease interference, President Eisenhower sent regular Army paratroopers and federalized the State Guard to enforce the court-ordered integration.

Finkbeiner and Ward said they believed in racial segregation but prescribed only "legal" methods of maintaining it.

Labor Bill Sent to House Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate general labor bill, aimed at driving rich employers and crooks out of unions, was finally sent to the House Labor Committee today. It had been held on Speaker Sam Rayburn's desk since introduction.

Rayburn (D-Tex.) told newsmen today he doubted if there would be any action on the bill this year.

He had delayed sending the bill to the committee until it cleared another measure providing for regulation of employee welfare and pension funds.

The committee is not expected to act on the general labor bill, which the Senate passed 88-1 on June 17.

power to send another. But they agreed Eisenhower's message of July 25 had been pretty tough in tone also.

The United States is prepared to take part in an 11-nation meeting of the Security Council.

Officials said Eisenhower and Dulles are still thinking as they were late last week in terms of a summit session at New York around Aug. 11 or 12.

Some authorities felt Eisenhower should counter Khrushchev's blast by announcing he will show up for a high-level Security Council meeting, whether or not the Soviet leader shows up.

They recalled that the Soviet Union threatened to boycott the current Geneva technical talks on disarmament, but changed its mind when American officials went to the meeting despite last-minute Soviet objections.

The White House foreboded Eisenhower's attitude when it announced that there was no change in the President's proposal for keeping the meeting within the U.N. despite Khrushchev's newest blast.

Renewed backing for that stand came from three members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee: Hubert Humphrey (D-Min), Senator Mike Mansfield (D-Mt.) and Homer Capehart (R-Ind.).

But Mansfield suggested that a Security Council meeting could be held in Geneva in a move to accept part of Khrushchev's suggestion.

The initial White House reaction came from reading news accounts reporting the text of Khrushchev's letter as broadcast by Radio Moscow. The full text of Khrushchev's message still had not been received by the State Department Monday night.

was the underminister of commerce, Lucien Chauvet.

A newspaper reporter asked Chauvet what was happening. "I don't know yet," he replied.

Magloire was overthrown by a general strike in December 1956 after serving as president six years. He is now in New York City.

The radio said rebels also had seized the army barracks at St. Marc, about 100 miles north of Port-au-Prince. St. Marc is a small port city with a highway leading into the interior.

U.S. Ambassador Gerald Drew warned American residents here to keep off the streets.

Although the radio said "the enemy has two Americans with them," there was no identification by name.

President Duvalier has held office for the past nine months. During that period he has survived three conspiracies against his government.

Magloire was forced into exile after he tried to extend his six-year term as president with the backing of army elements.

of the subcommittee.

The subcommittee carefully laid the groundwork for its action several weeks ago, demanding answers to a series of 23 questions about the Boston millionaire's financial dealings.

Goldfine with equal firmness refused to answer, contending the questions had nothing to do with the subcommittee's inquiry on whether improper influence had been brought on federal agencies.

Goldfine readily answered numerous other subcommittee questions, claiming a long personal friendship as the basis for his frequent contacts with Adams.

President Eisenhower's top aide, but he contended as Adams had earlier, that he had received no special favors from government agencies as a result.

Subcommittee action would be only the first step toward possible prosecution for contempt of Congress. Action by the full committee and by the House itself would be required to send a recommendation to the Justice Department for action.

The Justice Department then would decide whether civil action was warranted, and if so would present the case in a grand jury. A contempt conviction carries penalties up to a $1,000 fine and a year in jail.

Goldfine has Jewish, Irish and Italian ancestry. The subcommittee questioned him for eight hours, his dealings with the Federal Reserve Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission on wool labeling and stock regulations.

Voting Heavyest in Logan County

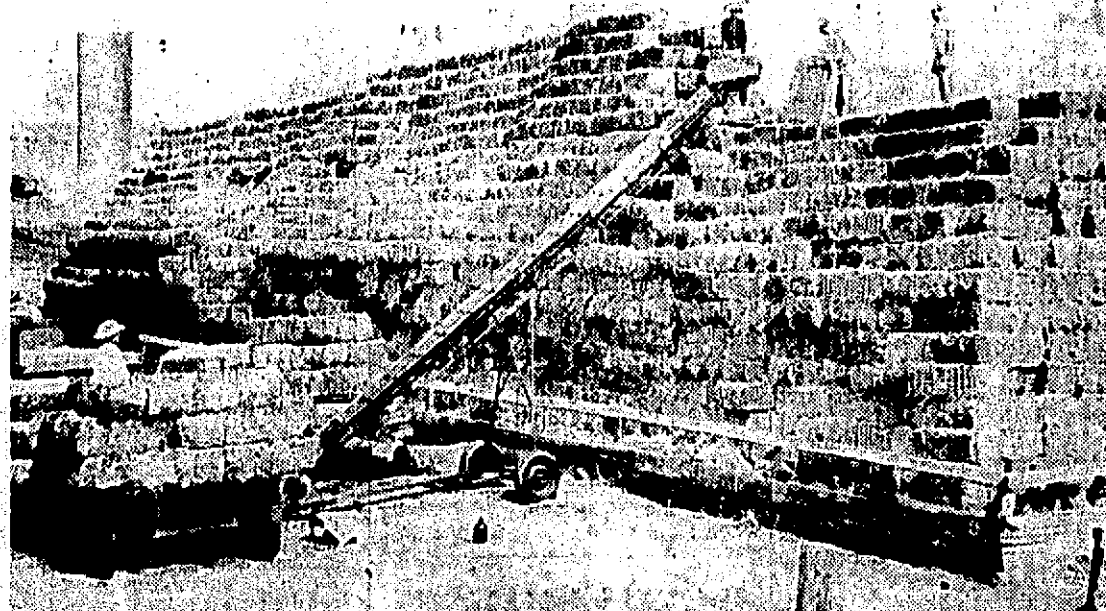

EL ROBARO, Ark. (AP)—Logan County's southernmost town has a record vote for the Democratic candidate in the 1958 election.

Next year 423 votes were cast for the Democratic candidate in 1958.

On the basis of the heavy early voting, county officials were expecting a record vote in Logan County.

Hays, Guthridge in Verbal Blows

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rep. Brooks Hays and his opponent, Amis Guthridge of Little Rock exchanged verbal attacks last night in the first round of the Fifth Congressional District race.

If neither man gets a majority a runoff will be held Aug. 12.

E. M. Harrington of Solgohachia, whose name will appear on the ballot, said last week he was withdrawing from the race because of lack of funds.

Guthridge charged that Hays wanted Gov. Orval Faubus to surrender unconditionally to President Eisenhower during the meeting last fall which Hays arranged.

Hays said: "Do you believe for a moment if I had double crossed Orval Faubus he would have remained silent?"

Guthridge charged that the congressman had worked with former Little Rock mayor Woodrow Mann to bring federal troops to Little Rock during the integration troubles last fall. Hays denied this.

In the Third Congressional District race Rep. James W. Trimble is opposed by three men—Charles Lee Whitaker of Van Buren and Donald Poe of Wadron.

NLR Lifts Curfew for Youngsters

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—The 3-month-old curfew for teenagers was lifted last night by the City Council in a unanimous vote.

Mayor William Laman signed the repeal move immediately.

A wave of teenage thefts had prompted the curfew ordinance in April. Several city officials said the curfew had served its purpose by curbing juvenile delinquency.

Alderman Paul C. Duke, who sponsored both the curfew and the repeal measure, suggested that the council vote to refund fines paid under the curfew law. The other aldermen were cool to the proposal.

Police records show that 24 youths and their parents were arrested under the curfew ordinance.

Newest American Satellite Sighted

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A sighting of the newest American satellite Explorer IV, was made Monday night near Cape Town, South Africa, the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory said today.

The sighting was reported by Roy Smith of the Smithsonian moonwatch team in Pretoria, South Africa. Smith said the satellite could not be seen by the naked eye.

American Officer Killed in Haiti

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) Deputy Sheriff Arthur Thomas Payne, 33, of Miami, was among those reported killed in an uprising in Haiti early today.

Also killed were Capt. Alex Pasquet 39, and Capt. Philippe Dominique, both of whom had been living in exile in Miami with their families since last December.

There was no immediate information on what Payne was doing in Haiti.

DeGaulle Unveils Reform Program

PARIS (AP)—Premier de Gaulle today unveiled his blueprint for reforming French governmental institutions.

Main aim of the draft, presented after two months of deliberation, is to strengthen the executive and the powers of the president to end the system which has given France 25 short-lived cabinets since the war.

De Gaulle personally presented the draft to a constitutional consultative committee which must approve or revise within three weeks.

Revision of the constitution would become definite if approved in a public referendum tentatively fixed to take place Oct. 5, unless both houses of Parliament approve it earlier by a three-fifths majority—which is hardly likely.

Arraigned in Death of Negro Politician

MEMPHIS (AP)—Judge Washington Hamilton was to be arraigned on a murder charge Tuesday in the slaying of Dr. J. E. Walker, wealthy Negro insurance executive and political leader.

Walker, 78, was shot down in his office Monday at the Universal Life Insurance Co., of which he was board chairman.

Hamilton, 76-year-old Negro and a former close friend of the slain man, was arrested minutes later and charged with murder.

Homicide Capt. W. W. Wilkerson said Hamilton admitted the slaying and charged that Walker "cheated me out of $100,000."

Hamilton told police he helped Walker organize the life insurance company and after the business became profitable "the doctor shoved me out."

Walker, a physician and bank president as well as head of the multi-million-dollar insurance firm, was regarded as Memphis' No. 1 Negro Democrat.

Sees No Need to Peek at Ike's Deeds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) told the Senate today he does not believe Congress should use any device to peek over the shoulder of the President after it adjourns.

Johnson said that so far as he is concerned, he does not want the authority—along with other legislative leaders—to call Congress back into session.

Such a device has been used during wartime periods. On those occasions Congress adopted a resolution permitting its leaders to reconvene the House and Senate.

Without such a resolution, only a president could reconvene Congress once it adjourns.

Johnson told his colleagues: "If we cannot trust the President to call Congress into special session in these days of speedy communications, then we are in a bad way."

Congress has set Aug. 9 as a tentative quitting date.

Chaffee Chief to Hear 'Burns' Report

FT. CHAFFEE, Ark. (AP) A report on an incident in which a trainee suffered burned hands while doing pushups on hot asphalt was expected to be turned over to the post commander here today.

Brig. Gen. William G. Bullock ordered an investigation of the case after talking to each of the trainees involved.

Two men were hospitalized with second and third degree burns on their hands after the incident Saturday.

The non-com in charge of the trainees group Sgt. Roy Cobb, 28 of Atlanta, Ga., still was restricted to his unit area today.

Capt. Arlie Mithen, public information officer, said Cobb had ordered the men to do pushups on an asphalt pavement as a disciplinary measure.

An army physician last night said the two hospitalized men, Pvt. Donald Hester, 19 of Piney Point, and Don G. Weeks, 22 of Harrisburg, Ark., were in good shape and probably could return to duty sometime this week.

The other men in the trainees group were placed on light duty.

MONEY TO BURN—Pleased as anyone would be who had more money than he could handle, Charles Christensen, 6, right, and his sister, Marilyn, 8, are having a picnic at the 48th Quadrennial World Conference of the Seventh-Day Adventists in Cleveland. The kids are from La Paz, Bolivia, and thousands of "Boliviano" notes were given to persons attending the convention in an effort to encourage mission offerings "while money still means something." In 1928 the notes would have been equal to $250,000 in U.S. currency. Today it would take 8,500 of these notes to equal a U.S. dollar.

Army to Send Elvis to Germany

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) Sorry, girls, but it'll probably be a long time before you see Elvis Presley again.

The Army plans to send the rock 'n' roll idol directly to Germany—with no leave time en route.

The Memphis Press-Scimitar says it learned that in a telephone chat with a public information officer at Ft. Hood, Tex., where Presley now is stationed.

Lt. Col. Marjorie Schulten, a WAC officer, told the newspaper: "The program which Pvt. Presley is training under does not provide for leave time off upon completion. He'll be on orders for his first assignment the day he completes his training—probably the first week in September."

The Memphis singer is undergoing 14 weeks of advanced armor training at Ft. Hood. He entered the Army last March.

Bill Would Aid Self Employed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House, without a record vote, today passed, and sent to the Senate a bill providing special retirement tax relief for self-employed persons.

It would permit doctors, lawyers, and other self-employed taxpayers to defer taxes until retirement on 10 per cent of income up to $2,500 a year, if they put the money into their own retirement funds.

The income tax would fall due when pension amounts are withdrawn. The tax rate, however, would be lower in practically all cases than that applying to the same amount of money as part of a man's income in active years.

Council Takes Up for Mr. Goldfine

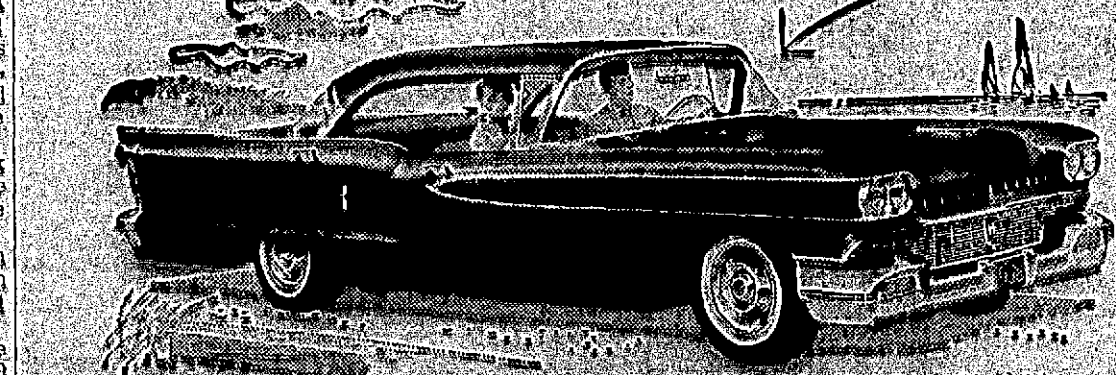

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—Counsel for Bernard Goldfine, against whom House investigators recommended contempt of Congress action, said today they felt "no citizen has any obligation to reveal all the aspects of his personal life for the entertainment of a congressional committee of the public."

Samuel P. Sears and Lawrence R. Cohen, attorneys for Goldfine, issued a statement after they had been informed of the investigating subcommittee's action.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) In quest of a kiss, Richard spent three hours, taking four miles Monday night, trailing a woman to the factory where she works.

Richard Thompson, 3, trudged up to the gate of the American Can Co. plant and confronted the guard.

"I want to see mommy. She forgot to kiss me goodnight," he said.

Cladys Thompson, summoned from her job, bestowed the kiss then called her husband to take Richard home.

Ouachita County Has 2 Polio Cases

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Two cases of polio in Ouachita County last week raised the total number of polio cases in Arkansas this year to 12.

There were 31 cases in the corresponding period last year. The state Board of Health said today one of the Ouachita cases was paralytic.

Burglars Loot Market of $5,000

LITTLE ROCK (AP) About $5,000 has been taken from the Model Market at Geyer Springs, the Putaski County sheriff's office reported yesterday.

Deputies said two men broke into the establishment Saturday night and cut holes in the roof and a ceiling. The thieves left their footprints on the roof, officers said.

Then the burglars used store tools to pry open a safe.

Tuesday July 29, 1958
The Gardenia Garden Club have a fall meeting Tuesday at 1 p. m. at the home of Mrs. V. H. Barber at Oakhaven. All members are urged to attend.

The Jett B. Graves Sunday School class of the Methodist church will meet at Mrs. Evelyn Luck's ranch Tuesday at 7 p. m. for a pot luck fish fry. Co-hostess will be Mrs. Edith Brown and Mrs. Louise James.

Miss Judith Myers Brannan, Oscar Albert Graves Jr., Exchange Vows.

Miss Judith Myers Brannan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wall Brannan of Piggott, Arkansas, became the bride of Oscar Albert Graves Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Albert Graves, in a ceremony performed by Rev. William O. Scroggin of Rogers and Rev. Harold Spence of Piggott at 8 p. m. Friday, July 18, in the First Methodist Church of Piggott.

The ceremony was performed before a background of woodward-rose and white gladioli. Cathedral candles in branched candelabra lighted the sanctuary. Music was furnished by Miss Shirley Kelley, organist, and Mr. Charles Haywood, soloist, who sang "Because," "Whisper Thou Gossamer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of magnolia, beaded de soie. The simple bouffant lines of the dress were delicately touched with car touches of hand-run Aleucon lace. The front of the gracefully flared skirt was flounced in ethereal tulle that was caught at the back in a cascade of tiers, drifting into a chapel train. Her tiered veil of French illusion fell from a cap of matching peau de soie and Aleucon lace, circled with seed pearls. She carried a Bible topped with Madonna lilies interspersed with lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Virginia Anne Graves, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. The bride's attendants were the Misses Anna Claire Jones of Piggott, Betty Russell of Piggott, Judith Callaway of Little Rock, Elizabeth Westbrook of Benton, Diane Mashburne of England, and Mrs. James V. Waldo of Normandy, Missouri. Their dresses were cocktail length sheaths of white lace underlined with matching tulle. A removable tulle skirt in the new intermission length fell from a contour band of tulle held by a flat bow. They wore queen's crowns of illusion trimmed in seed pearls and rhinestones with scalloped rose veils. They carried bouquets of white roses and ivy.

Mr. Graves served his son as best man. Groomsmen were John Robert Graves, brother of the groom, Benjamin Love Newbern, William Bridges, Thomas Jonathan Carter, Jr., of Vicksburg, Mississippi, cousin of the bridegroom, Franklin McLarty, and Charles Ledbetter of Fort Smith.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brannan chose a cocktail length Chantilly lace sheath in wedgewood blue. She wore a matching satin Dior hat and a white-rose shoulder corsage. Mrs. Graves, mother of the bridegroom, selected a platinum Chantilly lace gown with a matching hat of French illusion and lace. She carried a purse corsage of yellow roses.

Following the wedding, Dr. and Mrs. Brannan entertained at a reception in the lovely garden of their home. White hurricane lamps and candles lighted the lawn where the guests gathered.

The bride's table was laid with a white linen damask cloth. A mirror edged with fern, white roses and lilies of the valley reflected the bride's cake and the glow of tapers held in ivy festooned silver candelabra. White grapes and ivy bordered the flounce of the white orandie cloth which covered the table holding the silver punch bowl.

Assisting at the reception were: Mrs. Blair Bartleson, aunt of the bride, Miss Shirley Kelley, Miss Ruth Gwin, Mrs. Jim McDaniel, Miss Linda Houston, Miss Martha Lou Blackwell, Miss Faith Elder, Miss Carolyn Fikes, and Miss Polly Williams.

For travel, the bride wore a costume suit of imported Italian silk in petal pink.

After a trip to Colorado and Canada the couple will live in Cambridge, Massachusetts, where the groom will study in the Harvard Law School.

The summer sweater is one fashion that's absolutely indispensible on a vacation. For an unexpectedly cool day, a chilly evening, a stroll near sea or lake, it provides needed warmth and looks pretty, too. The very feminine version (left) is in orlon trimmed with velvet ribbon and Swiss lace. We show it in blue. The long torso dressmaker sweater (center) is a cardigan that takes on a costume look when worn with dyed-to-match skirt. Short cropped cardigan (right) is in a popcorn stitch, has slightly bloused effect. All styles shown here are Darlene designs in easily washed, quickly dried synthetics.

Miss Sue Moses

Bride-elect Feted

Miss Sue Moses, bride-elect of John Freeman, was honored with an old-fashioned kitchen shower by Miss Mary Charlene Horton and Mrs. Franklin Horton in their home last Thursday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock.

The seat of honor was covered with a green plastic table cloth on which was pinned a kitchen corsage.

Clever clues led Miss Moses to a few of the gifts hidden about the home, the last one taking her into the guest room where she found more gifts. While she opened the packages, the guests wrote favorite recipes on cards and their "wishes" for her in a heart-shaped autograph book covered with eyelet embroidery and bordered in white net. The hostesses presented her with a white net "bow pillow."

The serving table was covered with a pink linen cloth edged in white fringe. In the center was a mass arrangement of pink and rose zinnias in a milk glass bowl. Arrangements of multi-colored zinnias in antique containers were placed at vantage points throughout the house.

Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Harry Shiver, Mrs. Jim McKenzie, and Mrs. A. A. Abri- ton.

Before leaving, each of the 30 guests prepared a pink net rice bag to be used at the wedding reception.

Miss Beth Bridges

Complimented

Mrs. Syd McMath was hostess to an afternoon party at her home July 25 honoring Miss Beth Bridges, bride-elect of Bobby Gene Jones of Dimmitt, Texas.

The McMath home was beautifully decorated with arrangements of garden flowers placed at vantage points throughout.

During the social the hostess served the 14 guest delicious cake and iced drinks. The honoree was presented a gift of china in her chosen pattern by the hostess.

Coming and Going

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson and Mrs. Mary Sue Evans had as their weekend guests at The Hempstead Hunting and Fishing Club, Mr. and Mrs. Waldon Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crawford and son, Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crawford, and Mr. and Mrs. Jollie Wilson of Little Rock. They were joined Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Thell Joplin, and Mrs. J. L. Jamison.

Mrs. May Blackard of San Marcos, Texas is the guest of her sisters, Mrs. J. M. Houston and Mrs. R. E. Cain.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gray and daughter, Gloria of Monroe, La., spent the weekend with Mrs. Gray's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. McPherson.

Raymond Jones of the local American Legion Post attended a convention held in Little Rock over the weekend.

The Wingfield Stroud and family of Malvern were the weekend guests of Mr. Stroud's sister, Mrs. Raymond Jones.

Mrs. Tom Purvis and children of Ft. Smith are visiting her mother, Mrs. J. M. Houston.

Vivian Alford, Hempstead County Farm Bureau Office Secretary, has just returned from a two days state wide conference which was held in the board room of the new State Farm Bureau building in Little Rock.

FLOOD OF GRAIN—With Illinois and Missouri harvests now at their peak, millions of bushels of grain are moving off the farms every 24 hours. Above, a fabulous flow of wheat, part of the nation's largest harvest since 1947, and second largest on record, pours into a river barge at a Cargill, Inc., elevator at St. Louis. The barge equals the capacity of more than 50 railroad cars. The grain will go down the Mississippi to be exported from Baton Rouge.

DOROTHY DIX

Is Too Much to Ask
Surrender of Child

Dear Dorothy Dix: I hope you can help me find a solution to my very urgent problem. My wife and I have been separated for two years. Six months ago she became the mother of a baby whose father is married to someone else. I am ready to take her back, because I still love her dearly. I am willing to forgive and forget but only on condition that she give the child to me. I certainly cannot bring myself to raise another man's child. This she refuses to do. I feel if she loves me and wants to make a go of our marriage she'll give up the child. Everyone, our family included, think this child is mine. My wife doesn't want them to know the truth but I refuse to accept the responsibility of the baby. — R. M.

Dear R. M.: The picture as you present it certainly appears to be stalemate. If neither of you will

Counterfeit Charged to Ft. Smith Pair

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Fort Smith couple charged with possession and passing counterfeit money was back in Pulaski County Jail today after a bondsman asked to be relieved of their bonds.

James M. Mullen Jr., 33, and Mrs. Mary G. Mullen, 31, were recommended at a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Lee Miles at Little Rock yesterday.

They were taken into custody Sunday night at Mobile, Ala. Bondsman Ted Hood of Little Rock made $10,000 bond for Mrs. Mullen May 14 and $25,000 bond for her husband June 21. The two were arrested by Little Rock police May 10 in connection with distribution of 47 $20 counterfeit bills here, the Secret Service said.

Another man, William Carl Smith, 30, of Fort Smith, was arrested May 11 in that city on possession and passing charges in the same case. He has been held at Pulaski County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond since then.

Flood said he asked to be relieved of the bonds because "I couldn't keep up with them. They moved around too much." The bondsman said the couple not only left Arkansas in violation of an agreement but didn't notify him of their address.

budge on the crucial point, obviously you are never going to get together. If your wife gave up her child, she would never be happy with you. Even though she loves you, you would always be the monster who made her abandon her baby, and peace would never come to the household. I know it would be difficult for you to accept the child, but that's the only way you can ever be reconciled and have happiness. It will take a lot of courage and a good deal of humility and a tremendous love to do it, but surely the result will be worthwhile.

We often use the term "forgive and forget" loosely. Unless we fully realize the implications of the words, and are ready to apply them, they are meaningless. Talk this over with your clergyman and I sincerely hope you reach the decision I have indicated. Believe me, you will be much happier this way.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My wife recently returned to work to help out over a tough financial period. Last week I received a telephone call from someone who claimed to be a friend of my wife. This lady informed me that my wife was seeing another man. I don't believe it since my wife is never away from home alone. In spite of my disbelief, the story bothers me. I have a natural tendency to jealousy, anyway. — C. H.

Dear C. H.: The anonymous telephone caller is one of the most contemptible people on this green earth. Your wife's "friend" is a frustrated, unhappy woman who wants everyone else to be as miserable as she is. She knows your tendency to jealousy and is playing on it to cause trouble between you and your wife. Fool her. Don't be taken in by this or any other anonymous calls or letters.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a red-head of 55, single and quite attractive. I'm a saleslady in a small dress shop. The owner is a man three inches shorter than I, married, and I'm madly in love with him. I think from things he's said and done that he's in love with me, too. Do you think it would be all right for me to encourage his friendship? — Ginger

Dear Ginger: Never mind how tall the man is. The important thing is — he's married. As far as you're concerned, he has a "sold" sign on him. His gracious manner means nothing except that he's polite. Hands off!

Dear Dorothy Dix: Although I'm only 15, everybody thinks I'm 17 or 18. It's not that I'm big. I'm only five feet tall. It's very embarrassing to have to tell a boy my right age when he thinks I'm old enough to date. — Lynn

Dear Lynn: Probably you affect the clothing and manners of older girls — and like looking older! If you sincerely want to look your age, dress and act in. You won't fool anyone then.

Jail Operation at Ft. Smith Probed

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A grand jury investigation into operations of the city jail and the Fort Smith Police Department was ordered yesterday.

In directing the Sebastian County Grand Jury to conduct the probe, Circuit Judge Paul Wilke cited an incident involving the death of a prisoner at the jail.

Howard Spradlin, a Fort Smith printer, was found dead July 13. His cellmate, James Laster, 21, of Fort Smith charged with involuntary manslaughter in the case told officers he struck Spradlin with his fist after the latter became abusive.

The judge's 7-point outline for the police investigation included an inquiry into methods of arrest, physical condition of the jail and whether enough personnel were on duty there.

In another development, it was learned Monday that petitions for the recall of Mayor Jack Pace were being circulated. The petitions declared that the mayor permitted "acts of brutality" against arrested persons.

Names of those behind the petitions could not be determined. Pace blamed them on political enemies still smarting over his election.

000 bond since then.

Flood said he asked to be relieved of the bonds because "I couldn't keep up with them. They moved around too much." The bondsman said the couple not only left Arkansas in violation of an agreement but didn't notify him of their address.

Giants Finding Hitters Are Not Doing Part

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

More and more it is becoming evident that the San Francisco Giants pitchers have been getting a bum rap.

For weeks critics have been claiming the Giants would be far out in front in the National League if only they had some respectable hitting. But in fact, the hitters have been the guilty ones, not the pitchers.

Monday night's impressive rout—going performance by southpaw Mike McCormick and right-hander Ruben Gomez in the Giants' 4-2 and 2-1 sweep of a two-light night double-header in Philadelphia furnished additional proof that the San Francisco hitting has been underrated.

In their last seven games (not including the resumption of last month's suspended game), Giants pitchers have permitted 20 runs, half of them in one game. During the same period, the hitters have produced only 10 runs.

It is to the pitchers' credit that with such feeble hitting support they were able to win three and tie one of those seven games. Monday's double triumph bested the circuit's Cinderella team to within one percentage point of the front-running Milwaukee Braves.

All other National League teams were idle. In the American, the New York Yankees stretched their commanding lead over runner-up Boston to 15 games with a 14-7 triumph over Kansas City after Don trout had taken an afternoon 5-4 decision from the Red Sox. The Chicago White Sox nipped Washington 6-5.

McCormick still more than a year away from voting age, hurled a nine-hitter, outlasting rookie Roman Semprecht and Dick Farrell in the opener for his eighth victory.

Apparently Rest Cure All That Mantle Needed

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Apparently the rest cure was all Mickey Mantle needed to emerge from his prolonged batting slump.

Handicapped by a sore right shoulder practically from the start of the campaign, the New York Yankee slugger had stubbornly shrugged off repeated suggestions that he take a brief rest. His batting average dipped as low as .270.

It took another injury—a bruised left forearm—to finally sideline the switch-hitting star just before the team's current Western swing. Since returning to action in the second game of this trip, in Detroit, Mantle has cracked 15 hits in 27 times at bat for .556. That seven-game surge boosted his mark to .294.

Mantle walloped two home runs and a single Monday night as the Yankees outslugged Kansas City 14-7. Gil McDougald of New York and the Athletics' Bob Cerv also slammed a pair of homers.

The victory, coupled with Detroit's 5-4 triumph over Boston, widened the Yankees' first-place margin over the Red Sox to 15 games. The Chicago White Sox snapped a fourth-place tie with Kansas City, shading Washington 6-5.

In the only National League action, the San Francisco Giants swept a two-night double-header from Philadelphia 3-2 and 2-1.

The White Sox overcame a four-run deficit to defeat the Senators, Sherman Lollar's three-run homer in the fourth clinched a four-run win for Chicago in front of 54,000. Chicago regained the lead in this sixth on a triple by Nellie Fox and an infield out.

Turk Lown, National League castoff, gained his first AL triumph in relief. Dick Hyde was the loser. Washington's Alvin Pearson slammed his first major league home run off starter Early Wynn in the first inning.

Leo Kiley's bases-loaded pass to Charley Maxwell with two out in the bottom of the ninth pushed over Detroit's winning run against Boston.

Al Kaline slammed four hits, drove in two runs and scored once. Bill Ficher, in relief, was the winner.

Russia Closing in on Sports Leadership

By SIERLING SLAPPEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviets are closing in, surely and speedily on American leadership in sports. And even a controversial ruling and a debatable scoring system can't make it appear otherwise.

In the first United States vs. Soviet Union track and field meet, which ended Monday night, the Soviets outscored the Americans 172 points to 170; their women athletes defeated the American women 63-44; and most important of all, the American men could only defeat the Soviet men 126 to 109.

As the U. S. team packed to go on to meets in Warsaw, Budapest and Athens, the American women could look back with considerable pride on their performances here. So could some of the men. Unquestionably, the greatest feat of the two-day meet was Rafer Johnson's world record score of 8,302 points in the decathlon, wiping out his own accepted record and the unofficial 8,013 points made by his Soviet rival, Vasily Kuznetsov.

The only things that ranked a bit were the Soviet system of lumping together the scores of men's and women's competition and the disqualification of Gordon McKenzie in the 10,000 meters.

McKenzie's disqualification in a controversial ruling cost the U. S. team a point. He tried to quit the 10,000-meter race and was sent back by Coach George Eastman. Soviet officials without hearing the American side ruled he was disqualified for leaving the track. The American men won every running event up to 5,000 meters. Bill Dellinger finished second to the Soviet Union's Hubert Pynankivi in the 5,000 by a matter of inches in a great performance and Phil Coleman finished second in the steeplechase.

American men scored one-two sweeps in 7 of 19 individual events and also won both relays. Of the 22 men's events the U. S. won 13. But they had expected to score 8 to 10 points better.

No one knows definitely how the name "ham" originated for amateur radio operators. Some think it came from the Cockney habit of placing an "h" before initial vowels, thus "hamateur" eventually being shortened to "ham."

EGGS BUNNY

Chapter 2 PA
THE STORY: A suburban neighborhood has been shocked by the discovery of the body of a 13-year-old boy who was brutally strangled. The boy has been identified as Bruce Adams.

Chapter 11
The floodlights still shined through the swaying trees, and after the car had rolled to a stop, the two men got out and started down the path toward the activity.

The body had been removed but the coroner was still there. The lab men were packing their equipment and carefully wrapping the casts they had made of the footprints.

"Find anything else?" Morrison asked of everyone in general.

Dr. Hoff shifted his bag from one hand to the other. "Nothing much. Cause of death, strangulation, or suffocation, maybe a little of both. There were bruises on the lips and nose and some on the throat. They don't seem to be particularly bad. In fact, they could have been made by a woman's hand. It's possible someone just wanted to keep him quiet and overdid it."

"How about his fingernails?" Did he scratch his attacker, or pull out any hair?"

"We'll check more thoroughly when we get him downtown," the doctor answered, "but his fingernails seemed to be short to scratch. There may be hairs, but the lab boys will have to look for those. There's one funny thing, though. The fingers on his left hand all have thick calluses, but there aren't any on the right."

"He played the violin," Morrison remarked absently, "but other than the bruises, you didn't find anything?"

"We may have more for you after we've done a complete examination."

Morrison scratched his shoulder and said, more to himself than anyone else, "What I can't figure out is why he sneaked out. It's all out of character, from what we've found out about him."

"They reached the car and got in. Senjes checked with headquarters, and Morrison slumped to his seat, lost in thought."

"Where to, Lieutenant?" Senjes asked, after he had learned there was nothing new.

"Grimes and Fleck have been interviewing the neighbors, so let's see if we can run them down. Maybe they've found out something other than that Bruce was a good little boy who minded his mama and played the violin."

"The car used by Sergeant Fleck and Detective Grimes was parked at the curb, near the Adamses' home, but there was no way to be sure which house they were in. Senjes pulled up behind it and Morrison said, 'Well wait. No sense making the taxpayers think they're being invaded.'"

Grimes was the first to arrive. He was a medium-sized, wiry man, with dancing eyes and a shock of wavy blond hair. He also possessed the opinion that he was definitely a rare gift to the world. This was an opinion not shared by Morrison.

"What did you find out?" Morrison asked when Grimes was within earshot.

Fleck had come up, too, and the dark grey night made his cavernous, deep-set eyes look like puddles of ink.

"Not much of anything, Lieutenant. Everyone is shocked. They all seemed to like the boy, but none of them seemed to have known him very well," Fleck answered in his soft voice.

Grimes's voice was deeper, and his disgust was evident, as he added, "They don't know a thing, but what can they do to help."

"What d'ye want them to do, make up something, just for you?" Morrison asked sarcastically.

"No, but some of these people have known this kid for almost three years, and you know what they have to say about him? He was a well-behaved boy. If you want to talk about his brother, they'll give you a tin ear, but Bruce was a model of deportment."

"How about alibis? They all have one?"

"All but Mrs. Jannsen. She says she was home alone, and there isn't any reason to think otherwise. Mr. Jannsen isn't home yet, and neither are the Verheys," Fleck answered quietly.

"Well, there are the Taylors. That's their house we just came

State GOPs Must Hold Primaries

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Under a new state law Arkansas Republicans must nominate at primaries to be held at the same time as those of the Democrats.

There won't be any statewide voting by Republicans tomorrow, however.

Reason is that there are only two candidates in the Republicans' single statewide contest and there will be no voting on these until the second primary, Aug. 12. The two are George W. Johnson of Greenwood and Donald Layne of Little Rock.

The 1937 law provides for anyone voting in a primary of both parties. Since there won't be a Republican primary in most—if any counties tomorrow, it was uncertain whether this would apply to any Republican who might cross the party line to vote in the Democratic primary.

However, participation in a primary is covered by party rules and under Democratic regulations any Republican attempting to vote may be challenged and barred. Actually this seldom has been done. Before the 1937 act was adopted, Republicans nominated by convention.

out of. They have a couple of kids, and seem to be nice enough, but she's scared stiff. They say they had company last night, so we can check that in the morning.

"The Cornwells live over there," Fleck continued. "They're an older couple. He's an invalid. I can't see him being able to walk over there, let alone carry the boy."

"She's plenty hefty though," Grimes snorted. "She's got a sturdy little ocean-going tug."

"They say they were home together. No confirmation," Fleck went on calmly, as though he hadn't been interrupted.

"The Bergersons live the third house down," Fleck pointed.

"There's just she and the boy. He's about 14. They went to the movies and ran into an old friend, so they should be easy to check out."

"Mrs. Jannsen was home alone. She says her husband works a lot, nights. He's a car salesman and has to make contacts. We'll have to catch him tomorrow."

"If I had her around all the time, I'd work every night," Grimes sneered. "Of all the nasty-minded bags I've ever seen, she takes the cake."

"Grimes, will you keep your opinions to yourself?" Morrison snapped.

"He's right, Lieutenant," Fleck interjected. "She wants you to think she's every inch the particular lady, but she wants to know just what happened to the boy in every detail. She says she knows it was a sex fiend, and we just don't want to frighten her."

Morrison sighed. "There's always one in every neighborhood. Well you fellows knock off for the night. Senjes and I are going to get something to eat, then we'll come back and see if the Verheys are home."

Senjes pulled up to the curb. The place was dimly lit, but on the whole both men had seen much worse, so they went inside.

"Do we have a beer, or are we still on duty?" Senjes inquired hopefully as they took a booth.

"We're still on duty," Morrison replied but, after a look at the younger man's disappointed expression, added, "so I'll have one, and you look the other way. Then you have one, and I'll do the same."

Senjes was still grinning appreciatively when the small Chinese waiter offered the menus.

Morrison waves his way. "I'll have prawns, chow mein, and egg to yung, and you can bring a bottle of beer while we're waiting."

"Same for me," Senjes agreed. The waiter was back with the beer before he had even been missed. They talked.

"How's Lucy?" Senjes asked.

"Fine. She's found another bunch of houses for me to look at in what she seems to think is my unlimited spare time. Where she digs them up, I'll never know, but I swear some of them would dissolve in a rainstorm."

"You're a funny guy, Lieutenant. By the by, when are you and Lucy going to take the leap? You've been going together as long as I've known you."

"This summer. After all, neither of us are exactly kids, and we wanted everything just right before we started."

"Well, good luck and all that," Thanks. Looks like our food is coming. Order another beer, will you? I want to call the lab and see if those casts were any good. Be back in a minute."

Morrison kept his word within two minutes.

"Anything?"

"Two of the footprints were good, but they were both of the left foot. The tireprints were best, so it looks like we'll have a lot of tow-ers, finding out who they belong to."

With that, they both settled down to eating. When they had finished, each paid his own check and returned to the car.

About ten minutes later they parked in front of the Verhey home.

TODAY'S 2-MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF THE STOLEN CAR

Twentieth of a series

By Donald J. Sobel

The entire month of May had been rainless in Hicks county, but during the first week of June rain fell every day, ruining Haledjian's vacation and causing him to welcome the diversion promised by Sheriff Monahan.

"Smiling Charlie that's Charlie Wilson—is an old friend of mine," said the Sheriff. "I hate to bust in and accuse an old friend of selling stolen automobiles."

"Do you really believe I can tell if the car is stolen simply by posing as a customer?"

"I've heard tell you solved tougher problems."

"Look," interrupted the youth who sat beside Haledjian in the sheriff's car. "It's my convertible Charlie's showing. It was stolen five days ago. I don't care what the motor number reads, or the papers. He could have changed them. Arrest him!"

"Calm down and stay out of sight," warned the sheriff. "Here we are, doctor."

The sheriff and Haledjian entered the used car dealer's tiny office. "Not an official visit," Charlie said the sheriff. "My friend is interested in the green convertible."

Smiling Charlie frowned. "The one the Bragg kid from Tarrytown keeps insisting is his?"

"I take it you had the convertible on the lot before the boy's car was stolen," remarked Haledjian.

"Sure. I had this car two weeks. The last clear day before the big rains a fellow named Simpson brought it in."

"Have you road tested the car since then?"

"In this weather? Lord, I ain't had any customers!"

Haledjian took the keys and with the sheriff examined the car. He slipped behind the wheel and started the engine.

Sheriff Monahan heard the motor turn over—and then the other noise. He walked straight for the office and put Smiling Charlie under arrest for selling a stolen automobile.

The sheriff put smiling Charlie under arrest.

WHAT NOISE DID THE SHERIFF HEAR THAT WRECKED THE DEALER'S STORY?

Campbell Co. to Expand State Plant

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A million dollar expansion for a Fayetteville branch of the Campbell Soup Co. was announced today.

The Fayetteville branch prepares packaged poultry products under the Swanson brand name.

The announcement said the plant expansion here would result eventually in the employment of about now employed.

It also will increase poultry purchases in the Fayetteville area.

The expansion will begin at once and will be completed in from six to eight months, the announcement said.

Auto Jobbers Told to Cease Price Practice

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty-five jobbers of automotive products and supplies in eight southern states were ordered today to cease engaging in what was termed discriminatory price practices.

The order was issued by Hearing Examiner Earl J. Kolb of the Federal Trade Commission. It is subject to being appealed, stayed or reviewed by the commission itself.

The FTC said Kolb found that the jobbers violated federal anti-trust laws by inducing and receiving the use of two buying organizations, Mid-South Distributors and Cotton States, Inc.

Seventeen of the jobbers are members of Mid-South, headquartered at Memphis and the remaining eight are members of Cotton States, whose main offices are at Andalusia, Ala. Separate complaints were issued against the two groups.

Jobbers named in the complaint against Mid-South included Voss-Hilton-Barbee Co., Inc., formerly known as Voss-Huton Co., Inc., Little Rock, Ark.

It also will increase poultry purchases in the Fayetteville area.

The expansion will begin at once and will be completed in from six to eight months, the announcement said.

Tells About Flooded Trip in a Sewer

CLEVELAND (AP)—What's it like to be swept along for more than four miles by a wave of rain water in a dark storm sewer?

Here's how Terry McGuire, 13, one of four boys swept into the sewer, described the experience:

"We were playing at this great big opening in the ground, like a tunnel. We went in and walked a little way. Then we heard this water rushing down. We tried to get out, and the water just carried us down."

"I was sliding along in the water. I was sitting down like and the water was up to my waist. Boy, it was really dark. I could see a manhole above me only once in a while."

"My friends got ahead of me and the water started getting higher. It gradually was coming up to my chest. I was just about ready to give up. Then I saw this big opening like. The water slowed up. When I got to the big opening I was able to stand up and walk out."

"I was definitely scared. I was praying. I said the Act of Contrition."

News Briefs

BUFFALO, Wyo. (AP)—Lake Bugbee, Wyoming rancher, says his second childhood is coming rather late in life. Several weeks ago his friends noticed he was growing a new crop of hair on his previously bald head. Then he discovered a new tooth emerging through his lower gum. Bugbee is 58.

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Indianation may have killed a big Mackinaw trout found dead on the shore of Middle Piney Lake in Wyoming. Game and Fish Department officials said the stomach of the 26 pound fish contained large all of fish line, several large lead sinkers, three spinners, one minnow hooks, two regular hooks, one swivel and several bones.

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—City Dog Pound Master Jay Hobert showed police where a screen door had been ripped out and a door damaged. Officers rounded up four wanted suspects from the pound and pinned the crime on a watch dog with flecks of paint on its lips and teeth.

HOWELL, Mich. (AP)—A thief stole two new tires off of a car owned by Mrs. A. Wall of Howell. He replaced the tires he stole with two old ones.

Two of the boys, Fred Davis and Kevin McInerney, both 13, managed to climb to a ladder leading to a manhole cover about halfway along the route. Fred's brother Thomas, 14, and the McGuire boy made the full trip.

Cleaned up in a hospital, the boys were given antibiotics and held for observation.
